Unlock all of the drawing options and rules, you can also check the setting for your local Lotto at LottoRocket's LottoPlus feature is not only helpful for Lotto gamers, but also for both Lotto players and Lotto broadcasters. LottoRocket has been widely used in many parts of the world with many variations. I am sure it has been posted before, but there is not another site that can check and report on your Lotto Draw results from all of the world's lotto games and states. There are many sites that can tell you the draw results for one particular game or state, but I need a site that will work across the entire world to tell me the results for all lotto games, even the new ones. There are many sites that can tell you the draw results for one particular game or state, but I need a site that will work across the entire world to tell me the results for all lotto games, even the new ones. Just curious, how do you plan on checking this information? Is it just a matter of scanning the results each day? Just curious, how do you plan on checking this information? Is it just a matter of scanning the results each day? More like a nightly event with some manual checking each week. Are you from South Africa? If so, there's a great site that will do what you want (and more). Here is the site if you're interested (the site can also tell you about all lotto games going back to the 1920's, but it won't tell you what you're looking for since the draw results don't change with the draw number every week): Just curious, how do you plan on checking this information? However he is in need of a dedicated hardware and software package. The company that he is talking to is asking for a discatamer. Would you guys be able to provide him with a short list of software that is a pretty good match to IBM? I'm looking for a system that will support my hobby but my budget is very limited. I don't have the cash to be spending on hardware and software. I have a computer and a good microphone, I just need software to create my own TTS and have it support multiple languages. If anyone has any software recommendations for these two requirements, I would greatly appreciate it. I don't need anything too fancy but I can't go cheap either. Being able to monitor and record the progress of my students is one of my most important teaching tools.
